Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
2. Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claim limitation "lower in rigidity than said cover" renders the claim indefinite, as there is no cover in base claim 13.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:
A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
4. Claims 1, 5-8, 12, 13 and 15-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Ma.
5. The claimed "plate-like display device" is met by display 12. Display 12 has a "cover" (frame 11) "having a first mounting section" (mounting holes 14). Protective cover 2 meets the claimed "mounting member." Protective cover 2 has "a second mount section" (rods 21 and notches 22). The claimed "outer casing member" is met by frame 3. Frame 3 includes a "fixing base for fixing said first and second mounting sections (the assembly of the display 12 and the protective cover 2 is held within center opening 31 by hooks 32 and holes 33).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2851

7. Claims 1-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jung.
8. Jung discloses a "plate-like display device" (liquid crystal cell 2) with "a cover holding said plate-type display element" (metal frame 8). The combination of the metal frame 8 and liquid crystal cell 2 are held in a "mounting member" (moulding [sic] 12).
9. Jung discloses that the disclosed invention is for use as a display element in portable electronics such as cell phones. Jung fails to disclose how the disclosed invention is retained in such a portable electronic device. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to mount the display device of Jung in "an outer casing member" which fixes the display device to be viewable from the outside of the casing. One would have been motivated to fixedly mount the display device in order to maintain the position within the viewable area of the opening in the casing.

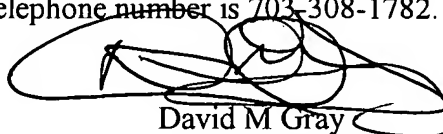

Conclusion

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Inubushi et al. device is cited for its disclosure of mounting a display element in a cell phone.
